

LedgeMate — Wall-Mounted Fold-Down Café Tables

More seats, more orders, same square footage.

What It Is

A product business selling (and optionally installing) compact wall-mounted fold-down tables to cafés, bars, and small venues. The table attaches flat to the wall, takes up almost no room, and instantly creates a clean spot for a customer to set down their coffee. It's cheap, practical, and lets a café serve more people without renting a bigger location — a small tweak that quietly raises the ceiling on a venue's revenue.

How It Makes Money

You source these fold-down tables from China and sell them to café/restaurant owners online (Shopify, marketplaces) and via direct B2B outreach, at a healthy markup. Models: single-unit e-commerce sales, bulk pallet orders to chains and fit-out contractors, optional install service, and branded/custom-finish upsells. Buyers are café owners, coworking spaces, bars, salons, and small-space landlords.

Startup Costs

- Initial inventory (50-100 fold-down tables): $1,500-$5,000 — Alibaba search "wall mounted folding drop leaf table bracket"
- Shopify store + theme + apps: $50-$400/month
- Product photography + branded packaging: $300-$1,000
- Samples + quality testing from 2-3 suppliers: $150-$500
- Ads / launch marketing budget: $500-$2,000
- Business license + import/customs handling: $300-$1,200
- Per-unit import note: a sturdy wall-mounted fold-down table lands around $12-$35/unit from China depending on size, wood/metal, and order volume (cheaper per unit at 100+).
- Total to launch: ~$2,500-$8,000

The Numbers

- Landed cost per table: ~$20 (incl. freight, duties)
- Sell at $59-$99 retail (or $40-$55 wholesale/bulk) → profit ~$30-$75/unit retail
- 120 units/month at ~~$45 avg profit~~ = $5,400/month
- Add one café-chain bulk order (40 units) and a single deal nets $1,500-$2,500
- Realistic monthly net after ads/fees: $3,500-$8,000/month, scaling as you add B2B accounts.

How To Start

- Order samples from 2-3 Alibaba suppliers; test sturdiness and finish quality.
- Pick the best supplier and place a first inventory run of 50-100 units.
- Build a clean Shopify store positioned for cafés/small spaces ("more seating, no remodel").
- Shoot real photos/video of the table in a café setting and the fold-flat action.
- Launch with targeted ads to café owners + direct DM/email outreach to local venues.

6. Land a few B2B/bulk accounts (chains, fit-out contractors) for repeat volume.
7. Add custom finishes/branding as an upsell and offer local install service.

Where To Get Customers

- Shopify + Meta/Instagram ads targeting café and small-business owners
- Direct B2B outreach to local cafés, bars, coworking spaces, salons
- Marketplaces (Amazon, Etsy for the home/small-space crossover buyer)
- Restaurant-supply and fit-out contractor partnerships for bulk orders
- Reels showing the space-saving "before/after" in a real venue

Pro Tips

- Sell the outcome, not the table: "more paying seats from the same rent." Café owners buy ROI, not furniture.
- Land bulk B2B accounts early — one chain or contractor relationship beats hundreds of one-off retail sales for stable volume.
- Order quality hinges; cheap fold mechanisms fail under daily commercial use and generate returns. Pay slightly more landed to protect reviews.
